

The Future of Information Architecture: Conceiving a Better Way to Understand Taxonomy, Network and Intelligence (Hardback)

By Peter Baofu

ELSEVIER SCIENCE TECHNOLOGY, United Kingdom, 2008.
Hardback. Book Condition: New. New.. 238 x 158 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. The Future of Information Architecture examines issues surrounding why information is processed, stored and applied in the way that it has, since time immemorial. Contrary to the conventional wisdom held by many scholars in human history, the recurrent debate on the explanation of the most basic categories of information (eg space, time causation, quality, quantity) has been misconstrued, to the effect that there exists some deeper categories and principles behind these categories of information - with enormous implications for our understanding of reality in general. To understand this, the book is organised in to four main parts: Part I begins with the vital question concerning the role of information within the context of the larger theoretical debate in the literature. Part II provides a critical examination of the nature of data taxonomy from the main perspectives of culture, society, nature and the mind. Part III constructively investigates the world of information network from the main perspectives of culture, society, nature and the mind. Part IV proposes six main theses in the authors synthetic theory of information architecture, namely, (a)...
