Oh God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land. Psalms 63:1, King James Version While walking in the early mornings, I sought the face of God. I needed to know his direction for my life. I searched for it through various things, thinking I would find it; I did not. It was not until I began to read, and meditate on his Word, that I found it. As I set aside time for him each morning, he met me. He was waiting on me. The things he revealed to me are reflected in my poetry. Author Bio: Denice is a playwright and author of children s poetry and short stories. A native of Chicago, she has been writing since age twelve. Her work is inspired by the natural world and her deep faith. Her love for God and his Word was the catalyst for this first volume of Poetry through the WORD. Denice, a teacher in the New Jersey public school system, holds a B.A. in Education from Rowan University, is a certified Teacher of Reading, a member of the International Reading Association and certified with the Literacy Volunteers of America. She is also a Vacation Bible School and Sunday School teacher.
